

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK

GENAO ANTONIO,

Plaintiff,

-against-

STATE OF NEW YORK; NEW YORK
COUNTY FAMILY COURT,

Defendants.

21-CV-7303 (LTS)

ORDER OF DISMISSAL

LAURA TAYLOR SWAIN, Chief United States District Judge:

Plaintiff, who is appearing pro se, brings this action invoking federal question jurisdiction under 28 U.S.C. § 1331. He asserts that Defendants violated his rights. By order dated October 26, 2021, the Court granted Plaintiff's request to proceed without prepayment of fees, that is, in forma pauperis (IFP). For the reasons set forth below, the Court dismisses this complaint.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

The Court must dismiss an IFP complaint, or any portion of the complaint, that is frivolous or malicious, fails to state a claim on which relief may be granted, or seeks monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief. 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)(B); see Livingston v. Adirondack Beverage Co., 141 F.3d 434, 437 (2d Cir. 1998). The Court must also dismiss a complaint when the Court lacks subject matter jurisdiction. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(h)(3).

While the law mandates dismissal on any of these grounds, the Court is obliged to construe pro se pleadings liberally, Harris v. Mills, 572 F.3d 66, 72 (2d Cir. 2009), and interpret them to raise the “strongest [claims] that they suggest,” Triestman v. Fed. Bureau of Prisons, 470 F.3d 471, 474 (2d Cir. 2006) (internal quotation marks and citations omitted) (emphasis in original). But the “special solicitude” in pro se cases, id. at 475 (citation omitted), has its limits – to state a claim, pro se pleadings still must comply with Rule 8 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, which requires a complaint to make a short and plain statement showing that the pleader is entitled to relief.

The Supreme Court has held that, under Rule 8, a complaint must include enough facts to state a claim for relief “that is plausible on its face.” Bell Atl. Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 570 (2007). A claim is facially plausible if the plaintiff pleads enough factual detail to allow the Court to draw the inference that the defendant is liable for the alleged misconduct. In reviewing the complaint, the Court must accept all well-pleaded factual allegations as true. Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 556 U.S. 662, 678-79 (2009). But it does not have to accept as true “[t]hreadbare recitals of the elements of a cause of action,” which are essentially just legal conclusions. Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555. After separating legal conclusions from well-pleaded factual allegations, the Court must determine whether those facts make it plausible – not merely possible – that the pleader is entitled to relief. Id.

BACKGROUND

Plaintiff, using the court’s form complaint for civil cases, brings this action against the State of New York and the New York City Police Department (NYPD) 9th Precinct. He invokes federal question jurisdiction and asserts that Defendants violated his rights. Plaintiff, however, provides no facts relating to the alleged violations. He instead only provides the following in his statement of claim:

COLOR OF RIGHTS VIOLATION
OBSTRUCTION OF JUSTICE
COLOR OF TITLE

(ECF 2, at 4.)¹ Plaintiff also refers the Court to supporting documents that he does not attach to the complaint. Further, in the relief section of the complaint, Plaintiff asserts the following:

DAMAGES TO COMPENSATE FOR ALL BODILY HARM, EMOTIONAL HARM, PAIN AND SUFFERING, LOSS OF INCOME, LOSS OF ENJOYMENT OF LIFE, AMERICAN CONVENTION ACT, UNIVERSAL DECLARATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS, PROPERTY DAMAGE, AND OTHER INJURIES INFLICTED BY DEFENDANT, AS WELL AS 42 U.S.C. S 1988, ATTORNEY FEES AND EXPENSES AS AUTHORIZED.

(Id.)

DISCUSSION

The Court construes the complaint as asserting claims under 42 U.S.C. § 1983. To state a section 1983 claim, a plaintiff must allege both that: (1) a right secured by the Constitution or laws of the United States was violated, and (2) the right was violated by a person acting under the color of state law, or a “state actor.” West v. Atkins, 487 U.S. 42, 48-49 (1988).

Plaintiff’s complaint fails to satisfy federal pleading rules. He does not provide a short and plain statement showing that he is entitled to relief as required by Rule 8, or include any facts suggesting that any defendant violated his rights. In order to state a claim for relief, a complaint must contain enough facts to allow the Court to reasonably infer that the defendant is liable to the plaintiff. Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678 (2009) (citing Twombly, 550 U.S. at 555). Plaintiff’s complaint contains no facts about what occurred or how the defendants or any other person allegedly violated his rights. As Plaintiff fails to articulate a viable legal claim, the Court dismisses the complaint for failure to state a claim on which relief may be granted. See 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)(B)(ii).

Further, Plaintiff cannot sue the State of New York or the New York County Family Court for allegedly violating his rights. “[A]s a general rule, state governments may not be sued in federal court unless they have waived their Eleventh Amendment immunity, or unless Congress has abrogated the states’ Eleventh Amendment immunity” Gollomp v. Spitzer, 568 F.3d 355, 366 (2d Cir. 2009). “The immunity recognized by the Eleventh Amendment extends beyond the states themselves to state agents and state instrumentalities that are, effectively, arms of a state.” Id. The New York County Family Court is part of the New York State Unified Court System, see N.Y. Const. Art. 6, § 1(a) (“The unified court system for the state shall also include the district, town, city and village courts outside the city of New York, as hereinafter provided.”), which “is unquestionably an ‘arm of the State,’” Gollomp, 568 F.3d at 366. New York has not waived its Eleventh Amendment immunity to suit in federal court, and Congress did not abrogate the states’ immunity in enacting section 1983. See Trotman v. Palisades Interstate Park Comm’n, 557 F.2d 35, 40 (2d Cir. 1977). Plaintiff’s section 1983 claims against the State of New York and the New York County Family Court must therefore be dismissed as barred under the Eleventh Amendment and as frivolous. See 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)(B)(i), (iii); Montero v. Travis, 171 F.3d 757, 760 (2d Cir. 1999) (“A complaint will be dismissed as ‘frivolous’ when ‘it is clear that the defendants are immune from suit.’” (quoting Neitzke v. Williams, 490 U.S. 319, 327 (1989))).

District courts generally grant a pro se plaintiff an opportunity to amend a complaint to cure its defects, but leave to amend is not required where it would be futile. See Hill v. Curcione, 657 F.3d 116, 123–24 (2d Cir. 2011); Salahuddin v. Cuomo, 861 F.2d 40, 42 (2d Cir. 1988). Because the defects in Plaintiff’s complaint cannot be cured with an amendment, the Court declines to grant Plaintiff leave to amend his complaint.

WARNING

Plaintiff has filed two other actions in this court against government entities in which he failed to allege facts or articulate viable legal claims. See Antonio v. State of New York, ECF 1:21-CV-6823, 1 (S.D.N.Y. filed Aug. 12, 2021); Antonio v. General Service Administration, ECF 1:21-CV-6522, 1 (S.D.N.Y. filed Aug. 2, 2021). He has also filed similar actions in other courts. See Antonio v. NYPD, No. 21-CV-4891 (E.D.N.Y. filed Aug. 20, 2021) (pending); Antonio v. Shrine Church of the Most Precious Blood, No. 2:21-CV-1076 (E.D. Pa. May 10, 2021) (dismissed for failure to state a claim); Antonio v. United States of America, No. 21-CV-0683 (D.D.C. Mar. 18, 2021) (dismissed without prejudice for failing to meet the minimal pleading standard).

In light of Plaintiff's litigation history, he is warned that the further filing of vexatious or frivolous litigation in which he fails to allege facts showing that he is entitled to relief may result in an order under 28 U.S.C. § 1651(a), barring him from filing new actions without prior permission in this court.² This warning is necessary, in light of Plaintiff's numerous filings, to conserve this court's judicial resources. See generally, In Re McDonald, 489 U.S. 180, 184 (1988).

APPLICATION FOR THE COURT TO APPOINT PRO BONO COUNSEL

Plaintiff also requests that the Court appoint pro bono counsel. The factors to be considered in ruling on an indigent litigant's request for counsel include the merits of the case, Plaintiff's efforts to obtain a lawyer, and Plaintiff's ability to gather the facts and present the case

² Plaintiff's listed address is the same as that of Elvin Genao, a litigant who filed numerous frivolous civil actions in this court and was barred from filing any new civil action IFP without first obtaining leave to file. See Genao v. Saint Pauls Church, ECF 1:19-CV-2704, 6 (S.D.N.Y. June 5, 2019).

if unassisted by counsel. See Cooper v. A. Sargenti Co., 877 F.2d 170, 172 (2d Cir. 1989); Hodge v. Police Officers, 802 F.2d 58, 60-62 (2d Cir. 1986). Of these, the merits are “ [t]he factor which command[s] the most attention.” Cooper, 877 F.2d at 172. Because the Court dismisses this action, Plaintiff’s motion for counsel (ECF 3) is denied as moot.

CONCLUSION

Plaintiff’s complaint, filed IFP under 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a)(1), is dismissed pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)(B)(i)-(iii). Plaintiff’s application for the Court to request pro bono counsel (ECF 3) is denied as moot. Plaintiff is also warned that further vexatious or frivolous litigation in this court may result in an order barring him from filing any new actions without prior permission. All other pending matters are terminated.

The Court certifies under 28 U.S.C. § 1915(a)(3) that any appeal from this order would not be taken in good faith, and therefore IFP status is denied for the purpose of an appeal. See Coppedge v. United States, 369 U.S. 438, 444-45 (1962).

The Clerk of Court is directed to mail a copy of this order to Plaintiff, and note service on the docket.

SO ORDERED.
